Jericho Books. 1 Cloth(s), 2014. hard. Book Condition: New. Edited with sincere faith and engaging irreverence by Christianity Today blogger Jennifer Grant and former Chicago Sun-Times religion columnist Cathleen Falsani, this hilarious collection of essays and other short pieces encourages readers to tackle those strange, awkward, worrying, yet endlessly compelling passages of the Bible. What the heck is the book of Revelation really about? (The answer will surprise you.) How do we come to grips with the Bible's seemingly troubling passages about the role of women? Why did the artist of the oldest known picture of Jesus intentionally paint him with a wonky eye and what does that tell us about beauty? Grant and Falsani give us a book by and for Christians, agnostics, skeptics, none-of-the-aboves, and people who aren't afraid to dig deep spiritually, ask hard questions, and have some fun along the way. "The writers come from all walks of life nonconformists and oddballs and approach the Bible in their own idiosyncratic ways. But while the writers may take the Bible seriously, that doesn't mean they can't have fun in the process, for, as the subtitle also suggests, the moods reflected here are often irreverent, even playful." Booklist "A devotional for humans, a daily reading for the messy, doubt-filled, sometimes irreverent people who love God or hope to some day. Though hinged on some of the Bible's most deranged narratives, [the book] is strangely comforting, a spiritual hodgepodge that is deep and convicting, hopeful and honest, quirky and wise. For believers, cynics, and misfit souls, [it] is a welcomed invitation to doubt, laugh, fight, debate, and trust." Matthew Paul Turner 357.
